EXPERIENCE OF A LIFETIME[™]

Up to 55,422 Shares Common Stock

This prospectus relates to shares of our common stock, par value $0.01 per share, that we may issue, from time to time, upon exchange, retraction or redemption of exchangeable shares of Whistler Blackcomb Holdings Inc., a wholly-owned Canadian subsidiary of ours with incorporation number BC1093305 that is referred to in this prospectus as “Whistler Blackcomb.” We refer to the exchangeable shares of Whistler Blackcomb as the “exchangeable shares.”

In October 2016, 1068877 B.C. Ltd. (“Exchangeco”) issued exchangeable shares in connection with our 2016 acquisition (the “Whistler Blackcomb Acquisition”) of all of the issued and outstanding common shares of Whistler Blackcomb Holdings Inc., a British Columbia company with incorporation number C0894119 (“Old Whistler Blackcomb”) to Old Whistler Blackcomb shareholders who made a valid election to receive exchangeable shares of Exchangeco in lieu of receiving shares of our common stock. On October 17, 2016, following the Whistler Blackcomb Acquisition, Exchangeco and Old Whistler Blackcomb were amalgamated as one company (“Amalco”) under the name 1068877 B.C. Ltd. pursuant to the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia). As a result of the amalgamation and by operation of law, Amalco had the same capital as Exchangeco and the holders of the exchangeable shares issued by 1068877 B.C. Ltd. became holders of exchangeable shares of Amalco, having the same terms and conditions as the exchangeable shares of Exchangeco. On October 20, 2016, Amalco changed its name to Whistler Blackcomb Holdings Inc. The exchangeable shares are not registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and were issued in reliance upon the exemption from registration provided by section 3(a)(10) of the Securities Act of 1933 on the basis of the approval of the Supreme Court of British Columbia. Each exchangeable share may be exchanged at the election of the holder for one share of our common stock. In addition, under certain circumstances, Whistler Blackcomb can redeem the exchangeable shares in exchange for shares of our common stock on a one-for-one basis. Upon the issuance of the registered shares of common stock upon such exchange, retraction or redemption of outstanding exchangeable shares, we will cancel an equal number of currently outstanding exchangeable shares of Whistler Blackcomb. At such time as there are no longer any exchangeable shares outstanding, the share of Special Voting Preferred Stock held by the trustee under our Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement will be automatically cancelled. See “The Exchangeable Shares” below on page 3.

Because the shares of our common stock offered by this prospectus will be issued only in exchange for or upon retraction or redemption of the exchangeable shares, we will not receive any cash proceeds from this offering. We are paying all expenses of registration incurred in connection with this offering.

Vail Resort’s common stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange, or NYSE, under the symbol “MTN.”

Investing in our common stock involves risk. Please read carefully the section entitled “Risk Factors” on page 3 of this prospectus and the information included and incorporated by reference in this prospectus.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission, nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of these securities or determined if this prospectus is truthful or complete. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

This prospectus is dated September 26, 2019.

OUR BUSINESS

Vail Resorts was organized as a holding company in 1997 and operates through various subsidiaries. Our operations are grouped into three business segments: Mountain, Lodging and Real Estate.

In the Mountain segment, we operate seventeen world-class mountain resort properties including Vail, Breckenridge, Keystone, Beaver Creek and Crested Butte mountain resorts in Colorado; Park City mountain resort in Utah; Heavenly, Northstar and Kirkwood mountain resorts in the Lake Tahoe area of California and Nevada; Stevens Pass mountain resort in Washington State; Stowe and Okemo mountain resorts in Vermont; Mount Sunapee mountain resort in New Hampshire; Whistler Blackcomb mountain resort in British Columbia, Canada, Perisher Ski Resort in New South Wales, Australia; Falls Creek and Hotham mountain resorts in Victoria, Australia; and the three urban ski areas of Wilmot Mountain in Wisconsin, Afton Alps in Minnesota and Mount Brighton in Michigan. The Mountain segment also includes ancillary services, primarily including ski school, dining and retail/rental operations, and for Perisher, including lodging and transportation operations.

Effective September 24, 2019, we closed on the acquisition of Peak Resorts, Inc. Through this acquisition, we added 17 U.S. ski areas to our network of resorts. Located near major metropolitan areas, including New York, Boston, Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Columbus, St. Louis, Kansas City and Louisville, the resorts include: Mount Snow in Vermont, Hunter Mountain in New York, Attitash Mountain Resort, Wildcat Mountain and Crotched Mountain in New Hampshire, Liberty Mountain Resort, Roundtop Mountain Resort, Whitetail Resort, Jack Frost and Big Boulder in Pennsylvania, Alpine Valley, Boston Mills, Brandywine and Mad River Mountain in Ohio, Hidden Valley and Snow Creek in Missouri, and Paoli Peaks in Indiana.

Several of the resorts located in the United States operate primarily on federal land under the terms of Special Use Permits granted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service. The operations of Whistler Blackcomb are conducted on land owned by the government of the Province of British Columbia, Canada within the traditional territory of the Squamish and Lil'wat Nations. The operations of the Company's Australian resorts are conducted pursuant to long-term leases and licenses on land owned by the governments of New South Wales and Victoria, Australia. Okemo, Mount Sunapee and Stowe operate on land leased from the respective states in which the resorts are located and on land owned by the Company.

Operations within the Lodging segment include (i) ownership/management of a group of luxury hotels and condominiums through the Company's RockResorts, as well as other strategic lodging properties and a large number of condominiums located in proximity to the Company's North American mountain resorts; (ii) National Park Service ("NPS") concessionaire properties including Grand Teton Lodge Company, which operates destination resorts in Grand Teton National Park; (iii) a Colorado resort ground transportation company; and (iv) mountain resort golf courses.

Vail Resorts Development Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Vail Resorts, conducts the operations of the Company's Real Estate segment, which owns, develops and sells real estate in and around the Company's resort communities.

The Company's mountain business and its lodging properties at or around the Company's mountain resorts are seasonal in nature with peak operating seasons primarily from mid-November through mid-April in North America. The operating season at the Company's Australian resorts, NPS concessionaire properties and golf courses generally occurs from June to early October.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in our common stock involves risk. Prior to making a decision about investing in our common stock, you should carefully consider the specific factors discussed below, in our filings with the SEC referred to under the heading "Where You Can Find More Information," including in our most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K, which is incorporated by reference into this prospectus and which may be amended, supplemented or superseded from time to time by other reports and documents we file with the SEC in the future that are incorporated by reference herein, together with all of the other information included in this prospectus and the documents we incorporate by reference. The risks and uncertainties we have described are not the only risks we face. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial may also affect our operations. If any of these risks actually occurs, our business, results of operations and financial condition could suffer. In that case, the trading price of our common stock could decline, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Risks Related to the Exchangeable Shares

Holders of exchangeable shares will experience a delay in receiving shares of our common stock from the date they request an exchange, which may affect the value of the shares the holder receives in an exchange.

Holders of exchangeable shares who request to receive shares of our common stock in exchange for their exchangeable shares will not receive shares of our common stock until five business days after the applicable request is received. During this period, the market price of our common stock may increase or decrease. Any such increase or decrease would affect the value of the consideration to be received by such holder of exchangeable shares upon a subsequent sale of the common stock received in the exchange.

USE OF PROCEEDS

Because the common stock will be issued upon exchange of the exchangeable shares, we will receive no cash proceeds from the offering.

THE EXCHANGEABLE SHARES

The rights of holders of exchangeable shares, including exchange rights, are described in the terms of the Plan of Arrangement, which is included as Schedule A to the Arrangement Agreement that is included as Exhibit 2.1 to this registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The shares of common stock offered in this prospectus will be issued upon exchange, retraction or redemption of exchangeable shares as described in the terms of the Plan of Arrangement, which is included as Schedule A to the Arrangement Agreement that is included as Exhibit 2.1 to this registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part. No broker, dealer or underwriter has been engaged in connection with this offering.

INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Material Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following is a summary of the material Canadian federal income tax considerations arising under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the regulations adopted thereunder (the "ITA") in respect of an exchange or redemption of exchangeable shares, and the holding and disposition of shares of Vail Resorts common stock acquired upon the exchange or redemption of the exchangeable shares generally applicable to holders of exchangeable shares who, for purposes of the ITA, and at all relevant times, hold such exchangeable shares, and will hold shares of Vail Resorts common stock acquired upon the exchange or redemption of such exchangeable shares, as capital property and deal at arm's length with, and are not affiliated with, Vail Resorts, 1089881 B.C. Ltd. ("Callco") or Whistler Blackcomb and who, for purposes of the ITA, (i) is or is deemed to be a resident of Canada at all relevant times and (ii) has not entered into, with respect to its exchangeable shares and/or shares of Vail Resort common stock, as applicable, a "derivative forward agreement," as defined in the ITA (a "Resident Holder").

This summary does not apply to a Resident Holder: (i) with respect to whom Vail Resorts is or will be a "foreign affiliate" within the meaning of the ITA, (ii) that is a "financial institution" for the purposes of the mark-to-market rules in the ITA, (iii) an interest in which is a "tax shelter investment" as defined in the ITA, (iv) that is a "specified financial institution" as defined in the ITA, (v) who has made a "functional currency" election under section 261 of the ITA, (vi) that is a corporation and is, or becomes as part of a transaction or event or series of transactions or events that includes the steps described in the Plan of Arrangement, controlled by a non-resident person (including a corporation) or a group of non-resident persons (including corporations) not dealing with each other at arm's length for the purposes of the foreign affiliate dumping rules in section 212.3 of the ITA, or (vii) who, alone or together with persons with whom the holder does not deal at arm's length for purposes of the ITA or any partnership or trust of which such holder or such person is a member or beneficiary, hold more than 10% of the issued and outstanding exchangeable shares at any time. Any such holders should consult their own tax advisors with respect to their particular circumstances.

Exchangeable shares and shares of Vail Resorts common stock will generally be considered to be capital property to a holder unless such securities are held in the course of carrying on a business, or were acquired in one or more transactions considered to be an adventure or concern in the nature of trade. Certain Resident Holders whose exchangeable shares might not otherwise qualify as capital property may be entitled to make an irrevocable election in accordance with subsection 39(4) of the ITA to have such exchangeable shares, and every "Canadian security" (as defined in the ITA) owned by such Resident Holder in the taxation year of the election and in all subsequent taxation years deemed to be capital property. However, exchangeable shares of a Resident Holder in respect of which a valid election was made under subsection 85(1) or 85(2) of the ITA will not be Canadian securities to such Resident Holder for this purpose and therefore will not be deemed to be capital property under subsection 39(4) of the ITA. In addition, shares of Vail Resorts common stock will not constitute Canadian securities for the purposes of this election. Resident Holders who do not hold their exchangeable shares as capital property or who will not hold their shares of Vail Resorts common stock as capital property should consult their own tax advisors regarding their particular circumstances.

This summary is based on the facts set out in this document, the current provisions of the ITA and our understanding of the current published administrative policies and assessing practices of the Canada Revenue Agency (the "CRA") publicly available prior to the date of this document. This summary takes into account all proposed amendments to the ITA that have been publicly announced by or on behalf of the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof ("Proposed Amendments") and assumes that such Proposed Amendments will be enacted as proposed. However, no assurance can be given that such Proposed Amendments will be enacted in the form proposed, or at all.

This summary is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations applicable to the acquisition, holding and disposition of exchangeable shares or shares of Vail Resorts common stock. Except for the Proposed Amendments, this summary does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law or any changes in the CRA's administrative policies and assessing practices, whether by judicial, governmental or legislative action or decision, nor does it take into account any provincial, territorial or foreign tax legislation or considerations, which may differ from the Canadian federal income tax considerations described herein.

This summary is of a general nature only and is not intended to be, and should not be construed to be, legal, business or tax advice to any particular holder. This summary does not take into account your particular circumstances and does not address considerations that may be particular to you. Therefore, you should consult your own tax advisors regarding your particular circumstances.

Generally, for purposes of the ITA, all amounts relating to the acquisition, holding or disposition of securities (including dividends, adjusted cost base and proceeds of disposition) must be expressed in Canadian dollars. Amounts denominated in U.S. dollars must be converted into Canadian dollars generally based on the Bank of Canada daily exchange rate on the date such amounts arise or such other rate of exchange as is acceptable to the CRA.

Call Rights

Callco and Whistler Blackcomb have certain rights (the "Call Rights") to acquire exchangeable shares from Resident Holders in certain circumstances. Vail Resorts is of the view that the Call Rights have only a nominal fair market value and accordingly no amount should be allocated to the Call Rights. This summary assumes that the Call Rights have nominal value.

This determination of value is not binding on the CRA and it is possible that the CRA could take a contrary view. Resident Holders should consult with their own tax advisors concerning this possibility.

Redemption, Exchange and Disposition of Exchangeable Shares

A Resident Holder will be considered to have disposed of exchangeable shares:

- (i) on a redemption (including pursuant to a retraction request) of such exchangeable shares by Whistler Blackcomb; and
- (ii) on an acquisition of such exchangeable shares by Vail Resorts or Callco.

However, as discussed below, the Canadian federal income tax consequences of the disposition for the Resident Holder will be different depending on whether the event giving rise to the disposition is a redemption or retraction by Whistler Blackcomb or an acquisition by Vail Resorts or Callco.

A Resident Holder who exercises the right to require the redemption of an exchangeable share by giving a retraction request cannot control whether the exchangeable share will be acquired by Vail Resorts or Callco under the relevant Call Right or redeemed by Whistler Blackcomb.

Redemption or Retraction of Exchangeable Shares

On a redemption (including a retraction) of an exchangeable share by Whistler Blackcomb, the Resident Holder of that exchangeable share will generally be deemed to have received a dividend equal to the amount, if any, by which the fair market value of the proceeds received on the redemption exceeds the paid-up capital (for purposes of the ITA) of the exchangeable share at the time of redemption. On the redemption, the Resident Holder of an exchangeable share will also be considered to have disposed of the exchangeable share for proceeds of disposition equal to the redemption proceeds less the amount of such deemed dividend. The Resident Holder will in general realize a capital gain (or a capital loss) equal to the amount by which such proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base to such holder of the exchangeable shares. In the case of a holder of exchangeable shares that is a corporation, in some circumstances, the amount of any such deemed dividend may be treated as proceeds of disposition and not as a dividend. For this purpose, the redemption proceeds of an exchangeable share will be equal to the sum of (i) the fair market value at the time of the redemption of the share of Vail Resorts common stock received by the Resident Holder, (ii) the amount, if any, of all declared, payable and unpaid cash dividends on the exchangeable share received by the Resident Holder, (iii) the amount, if any, of all dividends declared and payable or paid in respect of each share of Vail Resorts common stock which have not, at such time, been declared or paid on the exchangeable share and are received by the Resident Holder on the redemption, and (iv) the fair market value at the time of the redemption of any stock or other property constituting any declared, payable and unpaid non-cash dividends on the exchangeable share received by the Resident Holder.

The amount of any such deemed dividend will be generally subject to the tax treatment described in the section titled “Dividends on Exchangeable Shares” below. The general tax treatment of capital gains and capital losses is discussed below under the section titled “Taxation of Capital Gains or Capital Losses”.

Dividends on Exchangeable Shares

In the case of a Resident Holder who is an individual (other than certain trusts), dividends received or deemed to be received on the exchangeable shares will be included in computing the Resident Holder’s income for the taxation year in which such dividends are received and will be subject to the gross-up and dividend tax credit rules that apply to taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations. Provided that appropriate designations are made by Whistler Blackcomb, such dividend will be treated as an “eligible dividend” for the purposes of the ITA and a holder who is an individual resident in Canada will be entitled to an enhanced gross-up and dividend tax credit in respect of such dividend. There are limitations on the ability of a corporation to designate dividends and deemed dividends as eligible dividends.

In the case of a Resident Holder that is a corporation, dividends received or deemed to be received on the exchangeable shares will be required to be included in computing the corporation’s income for the taxation year in which such dividends are received and, subject to the special rules and limitations described below, will generally be deductible in computing the corporation’s taxable income. In certain circumstances, subsection 55(2) of the ITA will treat a taxable dividend received by Resident Holder that is a corporation as proceeds of disposition or a capital gain.

Resident Holders that are corporations should consult their own tax advisors having regard to their own circumstances.

A Resident Holder that is a “private corporation” (as defined in the ITA) or any other corporation resident in Canada and controlled or deemed to be controlled, whether because of a beneficial interest in one or more trusts or otherwise, by or for the benefit of an individual (other than a trust) or a related group of individuals (other than trusts) may be liable under Part IV of the ITA to pay a refundable tax of 38 1/3% on dividends received or deemed to be received on the exchangeable shares to the extent that such dividends are deductible in computing the Resident Holder’s taxable income for the taxation year.

Exchange of Exchangeable Shares with Vail Resorts or Callco

On the exchange of an exchangeable share by the Resident Holder with Vail Resorts or Callco for shares of Vail Resorts common stock, the holder will generally realize a capital gain (or a capital loss) to the extent the proceeds of disposition of the exchangeable share, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base to the Resident Holder of the exchangeable share. For this purpose, the proceeds of disposition in respect of an acquisition of an exchangeable share by Callco or Vail Resorts will be equal to the sum of (i) the fair market value at the time of the acquisition of the share of Vail Resorts common stock received by the Resident Holder, (ii) the amount, if any, of all declared, payable and unpaid cash dividends on the exchangeable share received by the Resident Holder, (iii) the amount, if any, of all dividends declared and payable or paid in respect of each share of Vail Resorts common stock which have not, at such time, been declared or paid on the exchangeable share and are received by the Resident Holder on the acquisition, and (iv) the fair market value at the time of the acquisition of any stock or other property constituting any declared, payable and unpaid non-cash dividends on the exchangeable share received by the Resident Holder. The acquisition of an exchangeable share by Callco or Vail Resorts will not result in a deemed dividend. The general tax treatment of capital gains and capital losses is discussed below under the section titled “Taxation of Capital Gains or Capital Losses”.

Disposition of Exchangeable Shares other than on Redemption, Retraction or Exchange

A disposition or deemed disposition of exchangeable shares by a Resident Holder, other than on the redemption, retraction or exchange of such shares, will generally result in a capital gain (or a capital loss) to the extent that the proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base to the Resident Holder of those exchangeable shares immediately before the disposition. For a description of the tax treatment of capital gains and losses, see “Material Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations -Taxation of Capital Gains or Capital Losses” below.

Dividends on Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock

A Resident Holder will be required to include in computing such Resident Holder’s income for a taxation year the amount of dividends, if any, received on shares of Vail Resorts common stock. Dividends received or deemed to be received on shares of Vail Resorts common stock by a Resident Holder who is an individual will not be subject to the gross-up and dividend tax credit rules in the ITA normally applicable to taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations. A Resident Holder that is a corporation will not be entitled to deduct the amount of such dividends in computing its taxable income.

A Resident Holder that, throughout the relevant taxation year, is a “Canadian-controlled private corporation” (as defined in the ITA) may be liable to pay a refundable tax of 10 2/3% on its “aggregate investment income” (as defined in the ITA), including any dividends that are not deductible in computing taxable income.

Any U.S. non-resident withholding tax on such dividends generally should be eligible, subject to certain limitations under the ITA, to be credited against the Resident Holder’s income tax or deducted from income.

Acquisition and Disposition of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock

The cost of shares of Vail Resorts common stock received on the retraction, redemption or exchange of an exchangeable share will be equal to the fair market value of such shares of Vail Resorts common stock at the time of such event and will generally be averaged with the adjusted cost base of any other shares of Vail Resorts common stock held at that time by the Resident Holder as capital property for the purpose of determining the Resident Holder’s adjusted cost base of such shares of Vail Resorts common stock.

A disposition or deemed disposition of shares of Vail Resorts common stock by a Resident Holder will generally result in a capital gain (or capital loss) to the extent that the proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base to the Resident Holder of the shares of Vail Resorts common stock immediately before the disposition. For a description of the tax treatment of capital gains and losses, see “Material Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations-Holders Resident in Canada-Taxation of Capital Gains or Capital Losses” below.

Taxation of Capital Gains or Capital Losses

Generally, one-half of any capital gain (a “taxable capital gain”) realized by a Resident Holder in a taxation year must be included in the Resident Holder’s income for the year, and one-half of any capital loss (an “allowable capital loss”) realized by a Resident Holder in a taxation year must be deducted from taxable capital gains realized by the holder in that year (subject to and in accordance with rules contained in the ITA). Allowable capital losses for a taxation year in excess of taxable capital gains for that year generally may be carried back and deducted in any of the three preceding taxation years or carried forward and deducted in any subsequent taxation year against net taxable capital gains realized in such years, to the extent and under the circumstances described in the ITA.

A Resident Holder that, throughout the relevant taxation year, is a “Canadian-controlled private corporation” (as defined in the ITA) may be liable to pay a refundable tax of 10 2/3% on its “aggregate investment income” (as defined in the ITA), including any taxable capital gains.

If the Resident Holder of an exchangeable share is a corporation, the amount of any capital loss realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of such share may be reduced by the amount of dividends received or deemed to have been received by it on such share (and in certain circumstances a share exchanged for such share) to the extent and under circumstances prescribed by the ITA. Similar rules may apply where a corporation is a member of a partnership or a beneficiary of a trust that owns such shares or where a trust or partnership of which a corporation is a beneficiary or a member is a member of a partnership or a beneficiary of a trust that owns any such shares.

Holders to whom these rules may be relevant should consult their own tax advisors.

Foreign Property Information Reporting

A Resident Holder that is a “specified Canadian entity” (as defined in the ITA) for a taxation year or a fiscal period and whose total “cost amount” of “specified foreign property” (as such terms are defined in the ITA), including exchangeable shares (including any ancillary rights) and shares of Vail Resorts common stock, at any time in the year or fiscal period exceeds Cdn $100,000 will be required to file an information return for the year or period disclosing prescribed information. Such Resident Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding compliance with these rules.

Eligibility for Investment

Provided that the shares of Vail Resorts common stock are listed on a “designated stock exchange” within the meaning of the ITA (which includes the NYSE) at a particular time, the shares of Vail Resorts common stock will be qualified investments under the ITA for trusts governed by a registered retirement savings plan (“RRSP”), a registered retirement income fund (“RRIF”), a registered education savings plan (“RESP”), a deferred profit sharing plan, a registered disability savings plan (“RDSP”) and a tax-free savings account (“TFSA”) all as defined in the ITA.

Notwithstanding that the shares of Vail Resorts common stock may be qualified investments for trusts governed by a TFSA, an RRSP, an RRIF, an RESP or an RDSP, the holder of a TFSA or RDSP, the subscriber of an RESP or the annuitant of an RRSP or RRIF, as the case may be, may be subject to a penalty tax under the ITA if such shares are a “prohibited investment” within the meaning of the ITA for the particular TFSA, RDSP, RESP, RRSP or RRIF. The shares of Vail Resorts common stock will generally not be a prohibited investment for a TFSA, an RDSP, an RESP, an RRSP or an RRIF provided that the holder of the TFSA or RDSP, the subscriber of the RESP, or the annuitant of the RRSP or RRIF, as applicable, deals at arm’s length with Vail Resorts within the meaning of the ITA and does not have a “significant interest” within the meaning of the ITA in Vail Resorts. Resident Holders should consult their own tax advisors to ensure that the shares of Vail Resorts common stock will not be a prohibited investment for a trust governed by a TFSA, RDSP, RESP, RRSP or RRIF in their particular circumstances.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences

The following is a summary of certain material U.S. federal income tax considerations generally applicable to Non-U.S. Holders (as defined below) who receive shares of our common stock in exchange for exchangeable shares (the “Exchange” for purposes of this summary).

The following summary is based on the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), U.S. Treasury Regulations thereunder, published rulings of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) and judicial and administrative interpretations thereof, in each case as in effect and available on the date of this prospectus. Any of the authorities on which this summary is based could be changed in a material and adverse manner at any time, and any such change could be applied on a retroactive basis. Except as explicitly set forth herein, this summary does not discuss the potential effects, whether adverse or beneficial, of any proposed legislation or regulations. No legal opinion from U.S. legal counsel or ruling from the IRS has been requested, or will be obtained, regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Plan of Arrangement, including the exchange of exchangeable shares for our common stock. This summary is not binding on the IRS, and the IRS is not precluded from taking a position that is different from, and contrary to, the positions taken in this summary. In addition, because the authorities on which this summary is based are subject to various interpretations, the IRS and the U.S. courts could disagree with one or more of the positions taken in this summary.

This summary is for general information purposes only and does not purport to be a complete analysis or listing of all potential U.S. federal income tax consequences that may apply to a Non-U.S. Holder as a result of the Exchange. In addition, this summary does not address U.S. Holders (as defined below) and does not take into account the individual facts and circumstances of any particular Non-U.S. Holder that may affect the U.S. federal income tax consequences applicable to such Non-U.S. Holder, nor does this summary address the U.S. federal income tax considerations of the Exchange to holders that are subject to special provisions under the Code, including the following holders: (a) holders that are tax-exempt organizations, qualified retirement plans, individual retirement accounts, or other tax-deferred accounts; (b) holders that are financial institutions, insurance companies, real estate investment trusts, or regulated investment companies; (c) holders that are dealers in securities or currencies or holders that are traders in securities that elect to apply a mark-to-market accounting method; (d) holders subject to the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code; (e) holders that own exchangeable shares as part of a straddle, hedging transaction, conversion transaction, constructive sale, or other arrangement involving more than one position; (f) holders that hold exchangeable shares other than as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code; (g) holders that own or have owned directly, indirectly or constructively, 10% or more of Whistler Blackcomb's voting securities; (h) holders that are controlled foreign corporations, passive foreign investment companies and corporations that accumulate earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax; (i) holders that are U.S. expatriates or former long-term residents of the United States; and (j) holders that hold, have held, or will hold, directly, indirectly or constructively, more than 5% of the shares of Vail Resorts common stock. Holders of exchangeable shares that are subject to special provisions under the Code, including holders described above, should consult their own tax advisor regarding the U.S. federal, U.S. state and local, and foreign tax consequences relating to the Exchange.

If an entity or arrangement classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes owns exchangeable shares, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Exchange to such partnership and the partners of such partnership generally will depend upon the activities of the partnership and status of such partners. Holders that are classified as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and the partners of such entities, should consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Exchange.

This summary assumes that Whistler Blackcomb has never been treated as a U.S. domestic corporation pursuant to Section 897(i) of the Code and that exchangeable shares have never been treated as shares of Vail Resorts common stock. This summary does not address any U.S. estate, state, local or foreign tax consequences relating to the Exchange. Each Non-U.S. Holder should consult its own tax advisor regarding the U.S. estate, state, local and foreign tax consequences arising from and relating to the Exchange.

For purposes of this summary, a "U.S. Holder" means for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (a) an individual who is a citizen or resident of the U.S., (b) a corporation, or other entity classified as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, that is created or organized in or under the laws of the U.S., any state in the U.S. or the District of Columbia, (c) an estate if the income of such estate is subject to U.S. federal income tax regardless of the source of such income, or (d) a trust if (i) such trust has validly elected to be treated as a U.S. person for U.S. federal income tax purposes or (ii) a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of such trust and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of such trust. This summary does not address the tax consequences of the Exchange to any U.S. Holder.

For purposes of this summary, a "Non-U.S. Holder" is a beneficial owner (for U.S. federal income tax purposes) of exchangeable shares that is an individual, corporation, estate, or trust, other than a U.S. Holder. The U.S. federal income tax consequences to Non-U.S. Holders depend in significant part on the provisions of the specific treaty, if any, in place from time to time between the United States and the Non-U.S. Holder's jurisdiction. Non-U.S. Holders are urged to consult a tax advisor who has knowledge of the particular treaty provisions applicable to the Non-U.S. Holder in order to accurately determine the specific tax treatment applicable to them. The following is therefore a very general discussion of such treatment without specific reference to any particular treaty.

Tax Consequences to Non-U.S. Holders Arising from the Exchange and the Ownership or Disposition of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock

Exchange of Exchangeable Shares

The tax consequences of the Exchange to a Non-U.S. Holder generally will be subject to the rules discussed below in the discussion titled “Dispositions of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock.” In general, a Non-U.S. Holder will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the gain (if any) realized in the Exchange unless (i) the gain is effectively connected with the conduct by the Non-U.S. Holder of a trade or business, or, if required by an applicable treaty, attributable to a permanent establishment maintained by the Non-U.S. Holder, in the United States or (ii) the Non-U.S. Holder is an individual who is present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of disposition and certain other conditions are met, unless an applicable income tax treaty provides otherwise. Non-U.S. Holders described in (i) and (ii) above should consult the corresponding descriptions contained in the discussion entitled “Dispositions of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock” for a description of the applicable tax consequences of the Exchange.

In addition, if Vail Resorts is or has been a “U.S. real property holding corporation,” or “USRPHC,” for U.S. federal income tax purposes (see “Dispositions of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock” below for what generally constitutes a USRPHC), a Non-U.S. Holder in the Exchange nonetheless would generally be subject to U.S. federal income tax and withholding tax as described below in “Dispositions of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock” as a result of Vail Resorts constituting a USRPHC, unless the common stock of Vail Resorts is regularly traded on an established securities market, under applicable Treasury Regulations, and: (i) the exchangeable shares are regularly traded on an established securities market and such Non-U.S. Holder has never beneficially owned, directly, indirectly, or constructively, more than 5% of the exchangeable shares, or (ii) the exchangeable shares are not regularly traded on an established securities market and on the date such Non-U.S. Holder acquired the exchangeable shares such exchangeable shares had a fair market value no greater than 5% of the fair market value of the then outstanding shares of Vail Resorts common stock, in each case determined under applicable Treasury Regulations. The provisions of the Code and Treasury Regulations regarding these determinations are complex and subject to differing interpretations. Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the application of these rules.

Receipt of Distributions on Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock

Distributions, if any, received with respect to the shares of Vail Resorts common stock out of Vail Resorts’ current or accumulated earnings and profits, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes, will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a rate of 30% (or lower applicable treaty rate) unless the Non-U.S. Holder establishes that such dividends are effectively connected with such holder’s U.S. trade or business. A Non-U.S. Holder may be able to claim benefits (if any) under an applicable treaty with respect to such withholding taxes. However, there can be no assurance that treaty benefits will be available and Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors as to the applicability of treaty benefits in such circumstances. In addition, a Non-U.S. Holder will be taxed in the same manner as a U.S. Holder on dividends received that are effectively connected with the Non-U.S. Holder’s conduct of a trade or business or, if required by an applicable treaty attributable to a permanent establishment by the Non-U.S. Holder, in the United States. A Non-U.S. Holder that is classified as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes may also be subject to an additional branch profits tax at a 30% rate (or lower applicable treaty rate) on dividend income that is effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business. To the extent a distribution exceeds Vail’s current or accumulated earnings and profits, it will first constitute a tax-free return of capital that is applied against and reduces, but not below zero, the adjusted tax basis of a Non-U.S. Holder’s shares of Vail Resort stock. Any remainder will constitute capital gain from the disposition of Vail Stock, the treatment of which is described below.

Dispositions of Shares of Vail Resorts Common Stock

Subject to the rules discussed below, a Non-U.S. Holder will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the gain (if any) realized on the sale or exchange of shares of Vail Resorts common stock or exchangeable shares, unless (i) the gain is effectively connected with the conduct by the Non-U.S. Holder of a trade or business, or, if required by an applicable treaty, attributable to a permanent establishment maintained by the Non-U.S. Holder, in the United States or (ii) the Non-U.S. Holder is an individual who is present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of disposition and certain other conditions are met, unless an applicable income tax treaty provides otherwise.

If a Non-U.S. Holder falls under clause (i) above, the Non-U.S. Holder generally will recognize gain or loss on the disposition equal to the difference between the Non-U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in the shares of Vail Resorts common stock and the amount realized from the disposition. Such Non-U.S. Holder will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the gain recognized from the disposition under regular graduated U.S. federal income tax rates applicable to such Non-U.S. Holder. Gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the non-U.S. Holders holding period is more than one year. In addition, if a Non-U.S. Holder that is classified as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes falls under clause (i) above, it may be subject to an additional branch profits tax on effectively connected income at a 30% rate (or lower applicable treaty rate). If an individual Non-U.S. Holder falls under clause (ii) above, the individual generally will be subject to a flat 30% (or lower applicable treaty rate) tax on the gain derived from a disposition, which may be offset by certain U.S. capital losses subject to applicable rules governing the availability of capital loss deductions for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Individual Non-U.S. Holders who have spent (or expect to spend) 183 days or more in the United States in the taxable year in which they contemplate a disposition of shares of Vail Resorts common stock are urged to consult their tax advisors as to the tax consequences of such disposition.

In addition, if Vail Resorts is or has been a USRPHC, a Non-U.S. Holder of shares of Vail Resorts common stock may be subject to (i) U.S. federal income tax on the gain (if any) realized on the sale or exchange of such shares as if such gain were effectively connected with the conduct by the Non-U.S. Holder of a trade or business in the United States, and (ii) a 15% withholding tax applied to the gross proceeds received on a disposition of such shares. Generally, a U.S. corporation is a USRPHC if at least 50% of the fair market value of all of its interests in real property and all of its other assets used or held for use in a trade or business (as defined in applicable Treasury Regulations) consists of “U.S. real property interests.” We believe that Vail Resorts may be a USRPHC. However, notwithstanding the foregoing, so long as the common stock of Vail Resorts is regularly traded on an established securities market, under applicable Treasury Regulations, Non-U.S. Holders who have never beneficially owned more than 5% of the shares of Vail Resorts common stock, directly, indirectly or constructively (including through the ownership of exchangeable shares), generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax on any gain realized on the sale, exchange or redemption of shares of Vail Resorts common stock solely because Vail Resorts is or has been a USRPHC.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Information returns may be filed with the IRS in connection with payments on the shares of Vail Resorts common stock or exchangeable shares and the proceeds from a sale or other disposition of such shares. Holders of shares of Vail Resorts common stock or exchangeable shares may be subject to U.S. backup withholding tax on these payments if they fail to provide their taxpayer identification numbers to the paying agent and comply with certification procedures or otherwise establish an exemption from backup withholding. The amount of any backup withholding from a payment will be allowed as a credit against the holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle the holder to a refund, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Withholding

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder and other governmental notices with respect thereto (collectively, “FATCA”) could impose a withholding tax of 30% (“FATCA Withholding”) on dividends on shares of Vail Resorts common stock paid to Non-U.S. Holders or any non-U.S. person or entity that receives such dividends on behalf of a holder (a “non-U.S. payee”), unless the holder and each non-U.S. payee in the payment chain complies with the applicable information reporting, account identification, withholding, certification and other FATCA-related requirements (including any intergovernmental agreement entered into by the United States and another applicable jurisdiction to facilitate the application and implementation of FATCA (an “IGA”). In the case of a payee that is a non-U.S. financial institution (for example, a clearing system, custodian, nominee or broker), withholding generally will not be imposed if the financial institution complies with the requirements imposed by FATCA to collect and report (to the U.S. or another relevant taxing authority) substantial information regarding such institution’s U.S. account holders (which would include some account holders that are non-U.S. entities but have U.S. owners). Other payees, including individuals, may be required to provide proof of tax residence or waivers of confidentiality laws and/or, in the case of non-U.S. entities, certification or information relating to their U.S. ownership.

FATCA Withholding may be imposed at any point in a payment chain if a non-U.S. payee is not compliant with the applicable FATCA requirements. A payment chain may consist of a number of parties, including a paying agent, a clearing system, each of the clearing system’s participants and a non-U.S. bank or broker through which a holder holds shares of Vail Resorts common stock. Accordingly, if a holder receives payments through a payment chain that includes one or more non-U.S. payees, the payment could be subject to FATCA Withholding if any non-U.S. payee in the payment chain fails to comply with the FATCA requirements and is subject to withholding. This would be the case even if the holder would not otherwise have been directly subject to FATCA Withholding.

A number of countries have entered into, and other countries are expected to enter into, IGAs. While the existence of an IGA will not eliminate the risk that dividends on the shares of Vail Resorts common stock will be subject to FATCA Withholding, these agreements are expected to facilitate compliance with the FATCA requirements thereby reducing the likelihood that FATCA Withholding will occur for investors in (or investors that indirectly hold shares of Vail Resorts common stock through financial institutions in) those countries.

Under proposed regulations promulgated by the Treasury Department on December 13, 2018, on which taxpayers may rely until final regulations are issued, FATCA Withholding will not be imposed on gross proceeds from any sale or other disposition of Vail Resorts common stock.

Depending on a holder's circumstances, such holder may be entitled to a refund or credit in respect of some or all of any FATCA Withholding. However, even if a holder is entitled to have any such withholding refunded, the required procedures could be cumbersome and significantly delay such holder's receipt of any withheld amounts.

Holders are strongly urged to consult their tax advisors regarding FATCA. Holders should also consult their banks or brokers through which they hold or would hold the shares of Vail Resorts common stock or exchangeable shares about the likelihood that payments to such banks or brokers (for credit to the holders) may become subject to FATCA Withholding at some point in the payment chain.

THE PRECEDING DISCUSSION OF U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS IS FOR GENERAL INFORMATION ONLY AND IS NOT LEGAL OR TAX ADVICE. EACH HOLDER IS ENCOURAGED TO CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISOR AS TO PARTICULAR TAX CONSEQUENCES RELATING TO THE ARRANGEMENT, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF ANY U.S. FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL OR FOREIGN TAX LAWS.

Item 15. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Section 102(b)(7) of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the “DGCL”), allows a corporation to include in its certificate of incorporation a provision that limits or eliminates the personal liability of directors of a corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for a breach of a fiduciary duty as a director, except where the director breached the duty of loyalty, failed to act in good faith, engaged in intentional misconduct or knowingly violated a law, authorized the payment of a dividend or approved a stock repurchase or redemption in violation of Delaware corporate law or obtained an improper personal benefit.

Section 145(a) of the DGCL provides that a Delaware corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, other than an action by or in the right of the corporation, by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against expenses (including attorney fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

Section 145(b) of the DGCL provides that a Delaware corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that such person acted in any of the capacities set forth above, against expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, except that no indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation, unless and only to the extent that the Court of Chancery or the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the court shall deem proper.

Further subsections of DGCL Section 145 provide that:

- (1) to the extent a present or former director or officer of a corporation has been successful on the merits or otherwise in the defense of any action, suit or proceeding referred to in subsections (a) and (b) of Section 145 or in the defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, such person shall be indemnified against expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection therewith;
- (2) the indemnification and advancement of expenses provided for pursuant to Section 145 shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses may be entitled under any bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise; and
- (3) the corporation shall have the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against any liability asserted against such person and incurred by such person in any such capacity, or arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability under Section 145.

Section 174 of the DGCL provides, among other things, that a director, who willfully or negligently approves of an unlawful payment of dividends or an unlawful stock purchase or redemption, may be held jointly and severally liable for such actions. A director who was either absent when the unlawful actions were approved or dissented at the time may avoid liability by causing his or her dissent to such actions to be entered into the books containing the minutes of the meetings of the board of directors at the time such action occurred or immediately after such absent director receives notice of the unlawful acts.

Vail Resorts' Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws provide, in effect, that, to the fullest extent and under the circumstances permitted by Section 145 of the DGCL, Vail Resorts will indemnify any person who is or was involved in any manner or is threatened to be made so involved in any threatened, pending, or completed investigation, claim, action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer, or employee of Vail Resorts or while a director, officer, or employee of Vail Resorts is or was serving at the request of Vail Resorts as a director, officer, or employee of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, or other entity.

The Company currently maintains an insurance policy which, within the limits and subject to the terms and conditions thereof, covers certain expenses and liabilities that may be incurred by directors and officers in connection with proceedings that may be brought against them as a result of an act or omission committed or suffered while acting as a director or officer of the Company and its subsidiaries.

Vail Resorts has entered into indemnification agreements with certain of their executive officers. The agreements are identical. Each agreement requires Vail Resorts to indemnify and hold harmless the applicable officer to the fullest extent authorized by Delaware law and the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws. Each agreement provides that Vail Resorts will indemnify and hold harmless the applicable officer against all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually or reasonably incurred by him or her or on his or her behalf, if, by reason of his status as an officer, he or she is, or is threatened to be, made a party or participant in any proceeding. The only limitation on this obligation is that Vail Resorts is not required to make any payment that is determined to be unlawful in accordance with the determination procedures set forth in the agreement. Vail Resorts must also advance to the indemnified officer all expenses reasonably and necessarily incurred by him or her or on his or her behalf in connection with any proceeding in which he or she is made a party or participant by reason of his status of an officer.
